

Our lawyers are working to create the final version of the user agreement. Before crowdsale launching, the user agreement will be available in this section of the website.

Also, for your convenience, the appropriate announcement will be made in our official groups in social networks.

Thank you for your understanding, we are working for you.